

St Mary's Harvest Appeal - 25th Oct 2026

We will be taking a harvest collection for Tearfund at St Mary's Harvest services. If you are able to give you can do so with cash or cheques (payable to "St Mary's PCC Hollingworth") in the envelopes provided. Or by scanning the QR code and giving to Tearfund directly.

For farming families like Momtaz's, the climate crisis isn't a distant threat. It's destroying harvests, threatening livelihoods and making it harder to put food on the table.

If you've already given to Tearfund's Harvest Appeal, thank you so much. If you're yet to give, it's not too late – your gift today could change the lives of people facing extreme poverty around the world.

You can support people like Momtaz in Bangladesh, who received training from Tearfund's local partner to start growing a new crop – strawberries. No one in her village had ever grown strawberries before, but her harvest was plentiful.

Momtaz is already planning to expand her strawberry cultivation and invest in more plants for the future.

Your gift today could help more families living in extreme poverty receive the support they need to change their lives. Tearfund and our trusted local partners are helping farmers around the world adapt to the changing climate with training in climate-smart farming and salt-resistant crops.

Will you help more families find new ways to grow food and earn an income? £60 could provide more families like Momtaz's with salt-resistant seeds, to help them cultivate thriving crops in salt-affected soils.

This Harvest, please continue to pray for farming families around the world who are struggling to feed their families because of the climate crisis.

Momtaz has one simple request: 'Pray that my children and I can stay well and live a good life.'

Thank you for following where love leads this Harvest and standing alongside families like hers.

With every blessing,

Silas Balraj
